

PLUSnxt Adds Relativity Contracts to Legal Tech Stack

PLUSnxt continues its commitment to Relativity's AI-powered products, providing clients an effective solution for contract review

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, December 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- PLUSnxt, leading electronic discovery services and solutions provider, today announced that it has added Relativity Contracts (Contracts), Relativity's integrated solution for contract analysis available in RelativityOne, to its legal tech stack. Incorporating Contracts allows PLUSnxt to optimize the contract review process with a best-in-class viewer and powerful workflows.

Contracts increases accuracy, accelerates the review and quality control process, and transforms agreements into actionable data empowering teams to make more informed decisions, faster. The AI integrated in Contracts enables users to leverage pre-built models, train their own custom models and import results from external models to transform contracts into structured data.

We are improving the level of service provided to our clients by enhancing organizations' ability to make intelligent, swift and advantageous decisions based on their contract data.”

said Gary Bendel, President and Chief Operating Officer at PLUSnxt

PLUSnxt is eager to employ this comprehensive contract review solution, having already completed the RelativityOne Pro Certification for Contracts. The toolkit allows PLUSnxt's clients to convert current agreements into organized, actionable data, facilitating the management of extensive document review projects.

“This is an exciting step in demonstrating our ongoing commitment to RelativityOne,” said Gary Bendel, President and Chief Operating Officer at PLUSnxt. “We are improving the level of service provided to our clients by enhancing organizations' ability to make intelligent, swift and advantageous decisions based on their contract data.”

“We are delighted that PLUSnxt will leverage Relativity Contracts to advance their customers’ contract analysis experience, which is an often arduous and tedious process,” said Laurie Usewicz, Chief Partner Officer at Relativity. “Their eagerness to earn a certification around this product demonstrates their immense dedication to delivering a best-in-class experience for their customers, and we look forward their continued partnership.”

The seamless integration of Relativity Contracts, combined with PLUSnxt’s custom workflows, has reduced the review time compared to previous processes, resulting in substantial cost savings per contract. PLUSnxt remains dedicated to maximizing the benefits of Relativity’s Extend products, enhancing value for its clients, strengthening this vital partnership, and demonstrating the organization’s unwavering commitment to RelativityOne.
