

Introducing new Global and Swiss Private Investigation Services Launched with use of new AI powered system

Innovative solutions meet AI technology in private investigation, setting new standards in the private investigations and intelligence industry.

ZURICH, ZURICH ZH, SWITZERLAND, December 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Swiss Security Solutions LLC, a leader in private investigative services, has announced the launch of its new global and Swiss-based investigation services. Catering to corporate, SME, UHNWI, Family Offices, Capital firms and individual clients, these services promise the highest implementation of security, investigative, intelligence and cyber standards, accuracy, leveraging the latest in investigative technology. This expansion signifies Swiss Security Solution's commitment to providing premier investigative and intelligence solutions on a global scale, while maintaining its roots and expertise in Swiss private investigation.

Global and Swiss Private Investigation Services

The world is full of obvious things, which nobody by any chance ever observes.”

The new combined services will address a wide range of needs, including corporate fraud investigation, personal background checks, enhanced due diligence, cyber intelligence, blockchain forensics, asset tracing, and more, which is actually a preparation phase for development and improvement of the new "Swiss Security and Intelligence

Artificial Intelligence System (SSIAIS)" during 2024. This program SSIAIS is a tool and system which will help sift through huge amounts of public and commercially available data, information and documents for clues. Swiss Security Solutions customers will be available to look for 'needles in the needle field'. Swiss Security Solutions LLC will be set to roll out SSIAIS to try and combat the internet for useful clues and potential security threats, and to report this to customers. The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in the SSIAIS will have no limitations. Swiss Security Solutions LLC has tested the SSIAS, which means implementation of AI into one part of the intelligence gathering, and confirms very good result. The SSIAS would help analysts and investigators work like never before, because where machines intelligently guide them towards accurate information, a realm exists where advanced systems can autonomously summarize and cohesively organize data, information and documents.

The demand for high-quality investigative services and business intelligence is at an all-time high. Switzerland, known for its stringent privacy laws and financial discretion, is a significant addition to the company's operational regions. The services provided include, but are not limited to:

- 1) Corporate investigations, including intellectual property theft, fraud discovery, and background checks.
- 2) Personal investigations such as missing persons, address investigations, background verifications, marital clarifications.
- 3) Cybersecurity solutions, including digital forensics, online fraud investigation, social media intelligence, and data breach analysis.
- 4) Global Royal and UHNWI solutions, Family Wealth and Businesses Intelligence, Discreet Monitoring, Suspected Cases Investigations.
- 5) Commercial solutions, such as Staff Vetting, Misuse of Assets Investigations, Debt Recovery Support and Employment activity.

“We understand that in today’s interconnected world, the need for reliable and comprehensive investigative services extends beyond borders,” said CEO Office Management. “Our expansion into global markets with use of all available technology and AI coupled with our deep understanding of Swiss privacy and legal frameworks, positions us uniquely to offer services that are not only effective but also adhere to the highest standards of confidentiality and legal compliance.”

Swiss Security Solutions’s approach combines traditional investigative methods with cutting-edge technology, ensuring a thorough and modern response to investigative needs. The company employs teams of experienced professionals, each with a deep understanding of both local and international investigative practices. The launch also includes a special focus on digital investigation and cybersecurity, cyber intelligence and blockchain intelligence, reflecting the growing importance of online data and digital footprints in modern investigation. “In the digital age, information is power. Our team is equipped to handle all kind of complex digital investigations, ensuring our clients have access to critical information when they need it the most,” added CEO Office Management. With this expansion, Swiss Security Solutions is poised to set a new standard in private investigation services, offering clients around the world and in Switzerland a level of service that is unmatched in the industry, and as an effective solution to meet the diverse needs of its clients.

With a team of experienced professionals and a commitment to confidentiality, Swiss Security Solutions is poised to become a pivotal player in the global private investigation arena. For more
