Driving Forces: Rise of Solo Travel and Affordable Accommodation

A key catalyst fueling the growth of the hostels market is the surge in solo travel. Driven by factors such as low cost, value for money, experience-based accommodation, convenient locations, and opportunities to connect with fellow travelers, solo travelers increasingly opt for hostels. The trend is evident in the Solo Traveler survey, where 70% of respondents expressed readiness to travel internationally in 2021. The rise in Google searches for solo travel since April 2020, across all age groups, further underscores the growing demand for hostel accommodations.

Major Players and Market Dynamics

Prominent players in the hostels market, including Hostelworld, Hostelling International, and A&O Hotels and Hostels, are pivotal in shaping the industry landscape. Technology-driven solutions, such as Cloudbeds and OPERA Property Management System (PMS), enhance the booking experience and contribute to the efficiency of hostel operations.
