Daniel Musgrove has forged a path of success as a musical artist; a producer; a videographer; a television show producer; an internet content creator; a marketing mogul; and a global music distributor. From his humble beginnings back in 2012, making his first recording using a less than adequate (albeit primitive) self-build computer, along with some antiguated music software in the back of his modest home, neither Daniel nor anyone else could have predicted how this personal hobby would evolve into such a dominating force in the music industry. From the early stages of his career as a budding independent artist, to his present role as CEO of his own music empire, Daniel Musgrove's multiple enterprises have produced a brand that is now recognized the world over, as his influence is being felt in both national and international markets.
