Merino Eucalyptus Leggings – These Merino Eucalyptus Leggings contain 43% merino wool, 44% Tencel 6% elastane, and 7% nylon sweatshirt material, the perfect mix for peak performance and comfort. The soft Tencel fibers are sustainably made from the Eucalyptus tree, soft as silk and as cool as linen, complimenting the merino wool's natural temperature regulation and technical performance.

Butter Onesie - A bodysuit you can go to the bathroom in! This innovative, two-piece bamboo jumpsuit is composed of separate mirrored parts. Each is worn on half the body, overlapping to create the perfect onesie, with an opening just where you need it! It has two long straps that can be worn in numerous ways; tied behind the neck, threaded through the bodice and tied in a bow, wrapped around the waist, crossed, or twisted. The bodice works great, either bra-less or with a black bra chosen to match the style. Chickfly's Butter Onesie is made with soft, strong, stretchy, and sustainable bamboo fabric, colored with organic dyes. It contains 8% added spandex for stretch and shape retention. The bamboo fabric is breathable, wicking, colorfast, and odor-resistant.

Chickfly understands that not everyone shares their passion for peeing. With step-by-step instructions (and some raunchy humor mixed in), Chickfly's "pee manuals" can help even the most intimidated or shy wearers learn to "go" freely with confidence. This patented fly technology is a win for women and provides convenience and confidence for pregnant people, the disabled, athletes, or anyone who may benefit from enhanced accessibility.
