

NEW HISTORICAL FICTION NOVEL 'BARBOURS CUT' HIGHLY CELEBRATED AT EVENTS

Nancy Potter's Release of 'Barbours Cut: Beyond the River's Reach' Successful Book Signing Tour in Historical Locations

HOUSTON, TEXAS, USA, December 15, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In what is anticipated to be one of the standout historical fiction reads of 2024, 'Barbours Cut: Beyond the River's Reach' by Nancy E. Potter, captures the essence of the American entrepreneurial spirit in the historic South. This compelling novel traces the journey of her great-grandfather, Captain Clyde Barbour, a figure synonymous with resilience, innovation, and the transformative power of vision.

People gather for the 'Barbours Cut' book signing event at Tchefuncta Country Club in Covington, LA.

Recently, 'Barbours Cut' was honored at events across significant historical sites in Louisiana, tracing the footsteps of its protagonist. In October and November, Potter embarked on a book

Each event has not only connected me with readers, but also brought Captain Barbour's legacy full circle, from the pages of my book to the places where his story unfolded.”

signing tour, starting in Franklin, LA, the birthplace of Captain Barbour's water transportation empire. The journey continued to the Tchefuncta Country Club in Covington, LA, a locale deeply intertwined with Potter's family history and the early oil industry narratives in 'Barbours Cut'.

Nancy Potter reflects, “Bringing 'Barbours Cut' to these meaningful locations has been an incredibly fulfilling experience. Each event, set against the rich historical tapestry of Louisiana, has not only connected me with readers but also brought Captain Barbour's legacy full circle, from the pages of my book to the places where his story unfolded.”

Since its release in September 2023, 'Barbours Cut: Beyond the River's Reach' has been receiving an outpouring of positive reviews from critics and readers alike who are praising the book for its engaging storytelling, rich historical detail, and the unique blend of family memoir and historical fiction.

Willard Howe, Author of the International bestseller, 'Sticks in the Clouds', shared his praise, "Nancy Potter draws on a wealth of family history to bring this unique story to life. It is the rags-to-riches story of her great-grandparents' lives around the turn of the 20th century. It reads like historical fiction but then, inserted among the pages, are amazing, vintage photographs of the real characters, reminding the reader that this is a true story. Nancy's wealth of knowledge and attention to detail add much credibility to this remarkable story. I couldn't put it down."

'Barbours Cut: Beyond the River's Reach' sets itself apart in the world of historical fiction. Going beyond mere facts, the book paints an evocative picture of a visionary entrepreneur's life and legacy. From the momentous transformation of the Houston Ship Channel, ensuring its pivotal role in global trade, to innovative improvements in Carbon Black yields, which have since become industry standards, Clyde Barbour's indomitable spirit comes alive in the pages of this masterfully written book.
