“With so many solar incentives available, the process can be overwhelming for homeowners,” said Cy Yablonsky, co-founder of PowerLutions. “Our guide looks to simplify understanding of these programs so more New Yorkers can transition to solar energy.”

The guide aims to educate homeowners so they can fully capitalize on the financial benefits. No login or registration is required to access the informative guide.

“Between NY-Sun, federal tax credits, and options like solar leases, the savings add up quickly,” Yablonsky continued. “We want to spread awareness so these incentives get utilized. This benefits homeowners, supports local solar contractors, and allows more residents to be a part of New York’s renewable energy future.”
