“Beyond Cloud has played an integral role in some of the largest and most complex NetSuite implementations around the globe,” said Craig Scott, founder and CEO for Fuuz. “Their extensive capabilities are good news for Fuuz customers who require rapid deployment and integration in complicated manufacturing environments. We are excited to add Beyond Cloud to our growing network of integration partners.”

In the era of Industry 4.0 where every device is a potential data source, Fuuz can become a game-changer for manufacturers and others by effortlessly connecting disparate data sources and enabling real-time data flow. The Fuuz MES platform is a unique combination of best-in-class applications (MES, WMS, QMS) and integration capabilities for machines and third-party software, enabling customers to accelerate their IIoT initiatives.

“We are pleased to announce the formalization of our partnership with MFGx, marking a significant strategic achievement for both our organization and, more importantly, our clients," said Brent Veit, vice president of Sales for Beyond Cloud Consulting. "The integration of Fuuz, the preeminent Manufacturing Execution System (MES) platform within the NetSuite ecosystem, provides our clients with an unprecedented extension of operational capabilities. This collaboration empowers organizations to enhance their production processes and proactively future-proof their operations."
