Integrity Investors is a well-established firm known for its expertise and leadership in Biblically Responsible Investing ("BRI"). This refers to a biblical-driven investment strategy that seeks investment returns in companies whose values and actions align with those of Christian teachings. Both firms are committed to maintaining the same level of excellence, personalized service, and investment expertise that Integrity Investors' clients have come to trust. "By combining companies, we expand our ability to care for our clients, enhance the services we provide, and quicken the mission of helping investors invest with Biblical integrity," said Mark Minnella, president of Integrity Investors.

"Mark was there in the early days of Biblically Responsible Investing. He brings a deep commitment to faithful investing and great professional expertise. FIS is fortunate to have Mark and his talented team as colleagues as we work to have Kingdom Impact," said Faith Investor Services Chairman Steve Nelson, CFA.

Additionally, Jason Kreke was previously with Edward Jones and LPL prior to joining Integrity. He brings solid experience as a Financial Advisor to Faith Investor Services. Stephen and Casandra are dedicated to client service/operations and will continue to bring their passion for excellence to Faith Investor Services. "These four professionals from Integrity Investors are people of faith and add a great deal to our growth trajectory in wealth management," offered Mike Skillman, the CEO of Faith Investor Services.

Outside of wealth management, FIS currently offers two faith-based ETFs, KOCG and PRAY. Their first, the FIS Knights of Columbus Global Belief ETF (NYSE: KOCG), launched in July 2021 and is sub-advised by the Knights of Columbus Asset Advisors. KOCG is managed in accordance with the investment guidelines set by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.
