major types of Ventiques vents. Ventiques presents vents in the premium metal and wood. The metal and wood floor vents look aesthetically beautiful, and known for the higher functionality. There are different types of vents covered under Ventiques metal and wood floor vents.

Under the metal and wood floor vents category, the flush mount floor vents and drop-in vents are covered. The flush mount floor vents are seamlessly adjusted with the height of the flooring whereas the drop-in vents are little above the height of the flooring. To get the flush mount floor vents installed, the installation is performed during the construction of the flooring and the settlement of the duct opening as the height of the flooring and the flush mount floor vents is the same. Whereas the drop-in vents can be installed and removed any time as per the comfort of the customers.

Both the flush mount floor vents and drop-in vents are functional, but the difference lies in the installation. Many people consider flush mount floor vents better as compared to drop-in vents as these vents provide the rich walking experiences to everyone. Kids and people with disabilities can walk flawlessly without any issues with the use of flush mount floor vents. Whereas when considering drop-in vents the falling issues rise if the little focus is missed while walking over the vents.
