

Skillable ranked as the leader in Virtual IT Labs for the 10th time in the G2 Winter 2024 report

NEW PORT RICHEY, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, December 21, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Skillable, the pioneer in performance-based learning and skill validation, has earned 44 G2 badges in its Winter 2024 report, the most that the company has achieved in a quarter. Included in the count is Skillable's 10th consecutive Leader badge in the Virtual Labs category, reflecting the company's continued innovation with hands-on learning and skill validation, along with its high levels of customer satisfaction and adoption. The total G2 badge count for Skillable since Fall 2020 is now 214.

Skillable was also lauded for its notable performance in the Best Usability, Best Relationship and Best Results categories. As Chris McCarthy, Chief Executive Officer of Skillable, comments, “We pride ourselves on our individual-centric approach to performance-based learning and skill mastery, so it is great to see this recognized in the G2 Winter 2024 report with badges in Best Usability and Best Relationship.”

The Best Results recognition gives confidence that investing in our performance-driven solutions will deliver tangible business results, at a time when this is a top priority in all boardrooms.”

Chris McCarthy, CEO of Skillable

He adds, “Business leaders are being tasked with achieving greater impact and returns on their investments, in L&D in particular with 74% of leaders looking to evolve their learning strategies to deliver optimum ROI. Skillable's recognition for the Best Results gives confidence that investing in our performance-driven learning solutions will deliver tangible business results, at a time when this is a top priority in all boardrooms.”

Virtual labs and challenges help to plug a vital gap in the modern learning technology stack, by creating a safe space for individuals to practice, stretch and validate their theoretical knowledge. Within a simulated 'real-world' environment, individuals gain a better understanding of how their skills can be applied, which helps with job readiness and reaching the necessary skill level for a role.

As one Skillable user and G2 reviewer explains, "Skillable provides hands-on learning experiences to develop and validate technical and digital skills. This enabled me to enhance my knowledge on the topic. There are many useful features that help learners to grow in their fields."
