Driving Force: Increasing Demand for Fresh Vegetables
The surge in demand for fresh vegetables is a primary driver for the growth of the tomato seeds market. With a rising preference for fresh and healthy produce, tomatoes are a staple in vegetarian diets. Notably, India's horticulture production witnessed a significant uptick, reaching 326.58 metric tonnes in 2021, a 5.81 metric tonnes increase from the previous year. Vegetable production also surged to 193.61 metric tonnes in 2021, marking a 2.5% growth. This escalating demand for fresh vegetables is expected to be a major catalyst for the expansion of the tomato seeds market.
