

Culver City Film Festival 2023 Celebrates 10 Years of Independent Film

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, December 29, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- December 2023 marked a milestone for Culver City Film Festival which recently celebrated its 10 year anniversary by presenting over 400 independent films at the Cinemark 18 and XD Theatre at the Promenade at Howard Hughes Center (HHLA) in Los Angeles. "People come from all over the world to assemble in Los Angeles to experience the high quality theater experience", said Festival Director, Jon Gursha. The Festival opened with a red-carpet kick-off party for filmmakers, followed by a full week of film screenings from 10 AM until midnight, and finished up with a red-carpet awards show and closing night party. "Culver City Film Festival 2023 was an exciting and fun time for filmmakers to see their films presented on the big screen, plus it provided networking opportunities for the independent film community" added Jon Gursha. This years Culver City Film Festival was an excellent opportunity for independent filmmakers from around the world to screen in Los Angeles at an amazing venue, giving filmmakers a high quality screening while on the film festival circuit.

The Festival prides itself as a top film festival on the circuit for the independent film community. "This year's film festival was well received by our audience, and spectators enjoyed the high quality film screenings at Cinemark18 and XD", said Peter Greene, Festival Programmer.
