ABOUT LIFESTYLE MEDICINE GRAND ROUNDS (LMGR)

In the format of Grand Rounds familiar to every physician, RLMI partners with IHA, a part of Trinity Health system based in Michigan, to enable clinicians everywhere to consider cases from the perspective of Lifestyle Medicine (LM), which focuses on lifestyle measures like plant-based diet, exercise, and stress reduction as the mainstays of health. Each month a challenging patient case is presented to a panel of LM experts in a Zoom meeting. Panelists have included well-known experts in the field such as Michael Greger, MD; Neal Barnard, MD; Garth Davis, MD; Michael Klaper, MD; and John McDougall, MD.

Launched in November 2021, LMGR provides valuable education and support to clinicians seeking to learn about Lifestyle Medicine and incorporate it in their practice. It is open to all health care providers, not just medical professionals, with the goal of reaching both seasoned LM practitioners and those new to the field. The free webinar has been approved for continuing medical education (CME) credit: 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit TM. Upcoming sessions are open for registration here.

Webinars are recorded and previous sessions may be viewed on the RLMI YouTube channel. Case ideas and other suggestions may be sent to grandrounds@roclifemed.org
