Our campaign launch today is a testament to our dedication to inclusivity and empowerment in San Salvador, reflecting our resolve to build a society where everyone can thrive.”

Carlos Hernández

In an event that has reshaped the landscape of political campaigning in El Salvador, Carlos Hernández launched his election campaign on January 2, 2024, in a vulnerable community of San Salvador. The event was not just a political rally but a profound display of humanitarian commitment, as evidenced by the distribution of wheelchairs to community leaders, capturing immediate media coverage.

A Campaign Kickoff with a Difference

Carlos Hernández chose to begin his campaign in a manner that speaks volumes about his priorities and values. By focusing on the needs of the community right from the start, he has sent a clear message about the kind of leader he aspires to be - one who places people and their well-being at the forefront of his political agenda.

Empathy and Action at the Heart of Politics

During the event, Carlos Hernández shared his vision for an El Salvador where every citizen is valued and supported. The act of distributing wheelchairs was symbolic of his commitment to address the challenges faced by people with disabilities, often overlooked in political discourse. "True leadership is measured by how it supports the most vulnerable in society," Carlos Hernández stated, emphasizing his commitment to inclusivity and accessibility.

Wheelchairs as Symbols of Empowerment

The wheelchair distribution initiative was a tangible demonstration of Carlos Hernández's approach to social welfare. Each wheelchair was not just an aid for mobility but a tool for empowerment, independence, and dignity. It reflected his holistic approach to governance - one that recognizes and addresses the diverse needs of the community.

About Carlos Hernández

Carlos Hernández, a dynamic Parlacen deputy from the Nuevas Ideas party, has rapidly risen as a key political figure in El Salvador and Central America since joining the party during the 2020 pandemic. Winning the 2021 election as a proprietary deputy, his term has been marked by impactful roles including vice president of the economic commission and president of the commission on foreign relations and migration. His initiatives span from creating job opportunities in Canada, offering English language scholarships, to empowering women in ICT and advocating for migrant rights and regional economic development through an open skies policy. Aligned with President Nayib Bukele's vision, Carlos Hernández's efforts in regional integration and community development have been pivotal, with his 2024 campaign focusing on securing a top position in Parlacen and continuing his commitment to societal welfare and regional cooperation.
