SHEDyt added as a RLBA member

SHEDyt asked to join The Residential Logbook Association (RLBA)

MANCHESTER, UNITED KINGDOM, January 12, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SHEDyt becomes a member of the The Residential Logbook Association (RLBA) Property Trade Group
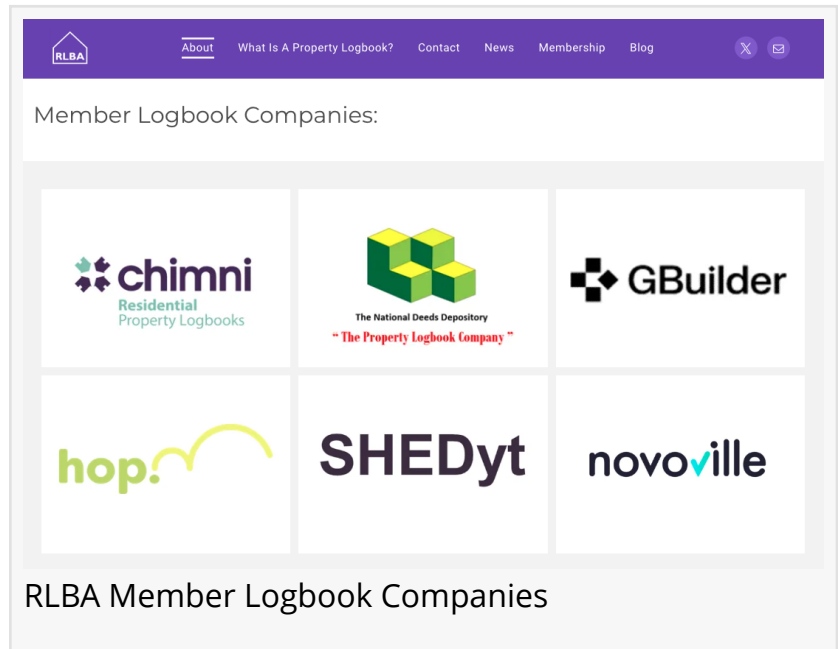

The Residential Logbook Association (RLBA) is the DLUCH supported trade association and self-regulatory body of companies providing digital logbooks for the residential property market. The members are providers of logbook systems, tech solutions and services for organisations that require access to validated property data.

RLBA Member Logbook Companies

What brings the member companies together, is they all bring value by providing property information upfront, in real-time or in an updatable manner for perpetuity and not just for one transaction such as a sale, valuation, re/mortgage, management or let. All member organisations will be using a unique property passport identification that can be used to tie the different systems to gather either manually via an API.

At SHEDyt, we plan to interface with other tech providers in the PropTech space and champion the occupier experience through a Digital Homeowner Manual. Having accurate and up-to-date property information aligns with the SHEDyt purpose of Simplifying Property Management, starting with Home Builders or Property Developers.

To find out more or become a member please speak to Nigel Walley of Chimni > https://www.rlba.org.uk/contact
The types of Real Estate companies that can gain value from a Property Logbook includes, though is not limited to Estate Agents, Conveyancing Solicitors, Development Finance Companies, Landlords, Asset Managers, Block Managers, Owner Operators, Freeholders, Investors, Investment Sourcing Companies, Property Funds, Leaseholders, Local Authorities, Letting Agents, Student Accommodation Providers, Build-to-Rent Builders, Architects, Building

about SHEDyt
The SHEDyt platform is initially targeted at property developers, where we are in effect digitising the homeowner manual that is usually printed out and handed over physically in a binder. The RLBA
