Maya Gat has once again been named a Top 50 Women Leaders of Connecticut for 2024 by Women We Admire.

In their announcement of this year's awardees, Women We Admire writes, "Maya Gat, Co-Founder and CEO of Branching Minds, guides a dynamic team dedicated to tackling crucial challenges in education by incorporating the expertise of experienced educators, learning scientists, and technologists, serving over 1.5 million students and thousands of teachers across nearly every state in the country."

I am lucky to work with the most compassionate, committed and talented team imaginable, and that we have the opportunity to make a difference for educators and students across the country."

Maya Gat, CEO and Co-Founder

Branching Minds is a leading K-12 education platform that brings together innovative, easy-to-use technology with the latest insights from the learning sciences and education research to help teachers more effectively, efficiently and equitably support all students' positive outcomes.

Using a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) framework, the Branching Minds platform centralizes student assessment data and collective teacher insights to help teachers proactively and equitably identify which students need support, with what and why – and then scaffolds the design and implementation of those support plans leveraging evidence-based resources to increase teacher effectiveness and decrease teacher workload.

"I am incredibly honored to be recognized again by Women We Admire and humbled to be amongst such accomplished women making waves across so many verticals," says Gat. "I am lucky to work with the most compassionate, committed and talented team imaginable, and that we have the opportunity to make a difference for educators and students across the country.”

Women We Admire is a publication dedicated to recognizing the achievements of exceptional women across industries, while inspiring others to continue their journey towards reaching their full potential. Read more here.
