American Trust Investment Services Customers: KlaymanToskes Continues to File Claims for GWG L Bond Investors

NEW YORK, NY, USA, January 11, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- National investment loss attorneys

KlaymanToskes continues investigating American Trust Investment Services on behalf of all GWG L Bond investors.

The firm has made substantial recoveries on behalf of GWG investors, following GWG Holdings' bankruptcy filing in April 2022, and continues to currently represent many GWG L Bond investors throughout the country.

Customers of American Trust Investment Services who have suffered investment losses due to GWG L Bonds and/or other alternative investments should contact the firm immediately at 888-997-9956 to discuss recovery options.

GWG L bonds were marketed by many brokerage firms, including American Trust Investment Services, as safe and low-risk investments that were instead illiquid, high-risk, and speculative. Financial professionals and their firms can be held accountable for investment losses incurred by their customers if the investment was unsuitable for the customer's risk tolerance and objectives, or if they misrepresented the nature of the investment.

KlaymanToskes previously announced in June 2023 that GWG's bankruptcy court authorized the sale of GWG Holdings' primary asset: equity interest in Beneficient (NASDAQ: BENF). However, since opening at $15 on its first day of trading, BENF has plummeted to less than $1. L bondholders are owed over $1.3 billion, however, GWG's ability to monetize its equity interest in Beneficient remains uncertain.

In August 2023, the GWG L Bonds were canceled, and investors were issued "Interests" in the Wind Down Trust, however, the value of the Interests and timeline for the bankruptcy's resolution remain uncertain. KlaymanToskes believes bondholders' ideal option to maximize their recovery of losses is through a FINRA arbitration claim against the brokerage firms and financial advisors who sold these illiquid investments.
