"At SecureWeb3, we understand the critical importance of protecting brands and ensuring web3 security, especially in an environment as dynamic as the web3 space" said Imran Ali, CEO at SecureWeb3. "This partnership with LawBEAM allows us to offer our clients a comprehensive solution that combines cutting-edge technology with top-tier legal expertise."

LawBEAM is recognised for its deep understanding of the disruptive nature of new technologies and the regulatory responses to them. The firm provides comprehensive legal coverage across major jurisdictions, spanning the UK, Europe, the Americas, the Middle East, and the Asia Pacific. Their mission is to apply legal expertise and technical excellence to support clients in achieving their business objectives.

Roshi Sharma, Founder Partner and CEO at LawBEAM, expressed enthusiasm about the partnership, stating, "We are very excited to collaborate with SecureWeb3 and enhance the protection and security of web3 environments. By combining our legal and regulatory intelligence with SecureWeb3's advanced technology solutions, we will empower our clients to navigate the rapidly evolving regulatory landscape with confidence."

The strategic partnership between SecureWeb3 and LawBEAM represents a significant step toward strengthening web3 brand protection, security, and regulatory compliance. Together, they will work diligently to ensure that businesses operating in the web3 space can thrive in a secure and compliant manner.

About SecureWeb3:

SecureWeb3 helps businesses and brands to remove their digital blindspot in the Web3 world and safeguard their intellectual property via their Web3 Brand Protection Platform that scans, monitors and protects brand assets across Web3 Domains, NFT Marketplaces and Metaverse platforms. They also offer a range of eLearning courses and training workshops as they believe that education is key in reducing the risks and threats that these new technologies can pose.

About LawBEAM:

LawBEAM is a trusted advisory firm specialising in crypto and digital asset regulation. With a global reach, LawBEAM offers expert guidance to individuals and companies operating at the forefront of financial technology, ensuring legal compliance and regulatory intelligence in a rapidly changing environment.
