

Venture Medical and DocNow Announce Partnership

Agreement Enables Integration of Leading-Edge Wound Care Products, Services, and Electronic Health Records

MISSOULA, MT, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, January 18, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Venture Medical, LLC, an innovative solutions provider in the U.S. wound care market with an extensive wound care-focused team, announced it has entered into a national agreement with DocNow to support wound care providers and improve patient outcomes by streamlining electronic healthcare records processes while also improving the efficiency of the supply chain of cutting-edge wound products.

By combining Venture Medical's innovative wound-care solutions and regenerative therapies with DocNow's cutting edge Post-Acute Wound Electronic Health Records solution, the disparity between supply chain and patients will narrow bringing cost savings, innovation, and, ultimately, improved patient outcomes. The DocNow functionality will be accessible from and integrated into the Venture1View™ integrated information portal offered exclusively to Venture Medical customers.

John Schroeder, Venture Medical President, stated "Venture Medical is proud to partner with DocNow in what we expect to be a significant reduction in the time required by busy providers for their daily documentation. With the many potential points of failure in complying with insurance carrier and governmental payor documentation requirements, even the most diligent of providers struggle with ensuring that the information is adequate to obtain appropriate, timely reimbursement. The combination of the VentureOneView™ portal and DocNow's platform should enable providers to reduce errors and effort significantly, allowing them to focus on what matters most: patient care."

Dr. Kashif Saeed, CEO and Founder of DocNow, commented, "We are very excited to partner with Venture Medical to bridge the gap between providers working with patients, electronic health records, products, and services to improve patient outcomes. This is the first step in a strategic partnership to push the boundaries of what is possible for wound care.”
