About Chef Brooks

The drummer-turned-chef started his career in 1991 after he found himself hungry trying to make it playing in a full-time rock and roll band in Birmingham, Alabama. After meeting a local market chef and sharing his passion and love of cooking that his entire family shared, he was hired and given the perfect learning environment as the gourmet market's chef.

After spending the next few years in all areas of the operation and working with some of the best young sous-chefs the area had to offer, he facilitated the opening of additional gourmet markets throughout the southeast. In 2000, a major venue in Northwest Arkansas brought Chef Brooks to the area, where he quickly became a local favorite and eventually opened a local restaurant. Brooks has gained local recognition in television appearances, particularly Cook with Brooks on Arkansas PBS and his YouTube Channel, Chef Brooks TV. Brooks has appeared nationally as a
