Prodly Announces Release of Compliance Center

The leading DevOps platform for low-code Salesforce apps ushers in a new era of SOX compliance for Salesforce CPQ.

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, January 22, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prodly, the leading ALM platform for low-code Salesforce apps, today announced the release of Compliance Center—a cutting-edge SOX tool that helps public companies and those preparing for an IPO meet and exceed critical regulatory requirements in Salesforce CPQ.

Creating a monitoring rule.

Compliance Center automates the monitoring and documentation requirements of SOX and comparable regulations including C-SOX, UK SOx, and ASX. This makes it effortless to prove adherence to requirements such as segregation of duties and using a formal change management process in Salesforce CPQ. It provides 24/7 environment monitoring with customizable rules for the types of changes to track and robust audit reporting capabilities with advanced filters for the immediate generation of detailed, transparent population and sample reports upon a SOX auditor's request.

The implementation of Compliance Center has been remarkably beneficial, as it offers precision and saves us countless hours of work," he added.

Max Rudman, CEO of Prodly, further explained, "Every year, companies dedicate thousands of hours to ensuring their operations adhere to regulations. Compliance Center automates the overwhelming burden of documenting SOX compliance in Salesforce CPQ, reducing this time by

98%, eliminating human error, and providing a new level of efficiency and peace of mind for our customers. Our solution is customizable to each organization's unique needs and with 1-click audit reporting, it allows companies to respond to SOX auditors in a timely manner. It's proactive risk mitigation at its best."
