

A Celebration of Global Creativity Kicks Off the Countdown to the San Diego Latino Film Festival

Laura Vásquez Saturno Crowned Winner of 31st SDLFF Poster Competition

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA, USA, January 22, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a momentous announcement, Laura Vásquez Saturno of Colombia emerges victorious as the winner of the 31st San Diego Latino Film Festival \(SDLFF\) Poster Competition. Her artwork stood out among the 200 submissions from talented artists worldwide, earning her the prestigious title and a prize of $1,500.

Laura shares her sentiments on this remarkable achievement, "I feel honored and excited to receive this recognition, it's like an injection of energy that moves and drives me as an artist to participate in creative spaces that connect and expand our culture. It's a pride to be part of this festival and its journey, as well as to share a space with different Latin American voices and perspectives."

The competition showcased the talent of 10 outstanding finalists, including artists from Colombia, México, France, Italy, USA, and more. Their diverse creations can be viewed here.

The grand revelation took place at the annual Poster Unveiling Party on January 17th, 2024, hosted at Border X Brewing in San Diego, CA. The event featured light bites, beer samplers, spirits, and a live DJ set from Saul Timba y más, creating an atmosphere of celebration and artistic appreciation.

As the winner, Laura Vásquez Saturno's words resonate with the spirit of the festival, embracing cultural connections and creative spaces. The SDLFF Poster Competition continues to be a beacon for artists around the world, fostering a global community of storytellers.
