

The diagram illustrates various gene delivery methods into a cell. The cell is shown with a nucleus and cytoplasm. Delivery methods include: Gene Gun (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Microinjection (injecting Herpes simplex virus), Nanoparticle (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Polymer (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Uptake (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Endosome (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Endosomal escape (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Adeno-associated virus (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), Lentivirus (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold), and Retrovirus (delivering DNA-coated colloidal gold). Inside the nucleus, the process of Reverse transcription is shown, leading to the formation of a Therapeutic gene.
