HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT, UNITED STATES, January 23, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Connecticut Council for Non-adversarial Divorce

has signed on to participate in Divorce With Respect Week™ 2024, running from March 4-8. For the duration of the week, the Collaborative Divorce Team of Connecticut will be offering up to three 30-minute free consultations for anyone seeking to better understand the Collaborative Divorce process and options for how they might divorce.

Divorce With Respect Week 2024 will run from March 4-8

In my years of practice, Collaborative Divorce has proven to be a better option for how people handle their divorce.”

Michael Conway

Collaborative Divorce Team of Connecticut professionals will offer these consultations to Connecticut residents. To book a consultation, visit www.divorcewithrespectweek.com. Anyone outside of Connecticut can also visit the Divorce With Respect Week™ website to find a Collaborative professional or group near them.

“Collaborative Practice brings me face-to-face with real people, and Divorce With Respect Week™ gives me the opportunity to help guide even more people through the Collaborative Divorce process,” said Michael Conway, attorney and President of the Connecticut Council for Non-adversarial Divorce. “In my years of practice, Collaborative Divorce has proven to be a better option for how people handle their divorce.”

The Connecticut Council for Non-adversarial Divorce is a group of multidisciplinary professionals committed to promote more respectful divorce processes to the people of Connecticut. Connecticut Council for Non-adversarial Divorce is joining Divorce With Respect Week™ as part of a national effort to build awareness of the Collaborative Process as a better way to untie the knot.
