Participants receive 'practical prescription' made up of meal planners purposely designed to either combat illnesses or effectively manage illness plans and exercise planners at every stage, empowering them to make informed choices about their well-being. The campaign offers six exercise programs, adaptable for use at gyms, parks, or home, providing flexibility and inclusivity for all participants.

A unique aspect of the campaign is the spirit 75 initiative, where 75% of all profits generated will be reinvested into communities to rebuild, fund vital resources, and enhance healthcare services.
