With existing adhesives in the marketplace, our team noticed the amount of unreliable, skin irritating solutions that were available.”

Developed by a team of medical device experts, in collaboration with individuals who depend on enteral feeding, TubeTac™ stands as a testament to Tube Fed Living's commitment to addressing the challenges faced by those requiring gastrostomy (G) tubes, nasogastric (NG) tubes, nasojejunal (NJ) tube, jejunostomy (J) tube, percutaneous endoscopic gastronomy (PEG) & gastrostomy-jejunostomy (GJ) tubes.

“With existing adhesives in the marketplace, our team noticed the amount of unreliable, skin irritating solutions that were available. We wanted to provide a solution that was not only gentle enough for pediatrics, but greatly reduced irritation and the potential for allergic reactions commonly associated with traditional adhesives” states Suzy Lindahl, founder of Tube Fed Living™. “Our company prides itself on providing safe, gentle yet effective products. Using TubeTac™ in combination with our BraveTape™ using what we call the ‘Sandwich Method’, provides a steadfast hold, rivaling the most powerful adhesives yet still friendly, gentle on the skin that is a breeze to remove.”

TubeTac™ is poised to transform the experience of individuals relying on feeding tubes by offering a reliable, skin-friendly, tear-to-size adhesive that prioritizes comfort and security. This innovation aligns with Tube Fed Living's™ mission to empower individuals with feeding tubes to lead fuller, more comfortable lives.
