A furniture store is a type of store that offers a vast selection of furniture goods, carpeting, and is often big and equipped with storage areas. Customers can test out the furnishings in these stores and look through all of their alternatives.

The main types of materials used in furniture stores are wood, metal, plastic, and others. Wood refers to a hard substance that constructs the branches and trunks of trees and can be utilized as a construction material or an energy source. They come in various price ranges such as high-end price furniture, medium-priced range furniture, and low-priced range furniture. These are distributed through several distribution channels including home centers, flagship stores, specialty stores, online, and others, and are used by various end-users including residential, office, hotel, and others.
