college planning, entrepreneurship, technology, personal development, and other relevant real-world skills. Youth will learn essential workforce development skills, including transferable business, communication, technology, and finance skills.

YS will train DNA Cascais to provide the municipality's youth to utilize its ecosystem to deliver necessary socioeconomic programming. YS looks forward to expanding its educational ecosystem in Cascais and Portugal through this crucial partnership. The customized program will offer a comprehensive selection of learning exercises, including the award-winning "My Own Business Challenge." The custom program enables youth to get involved in the economy at a young age and become the next generation of world citizens and business owners.

All graduates of this program can become real entrepreneurs by joining the Youthful Savings

Marketplace (YSM) and receive continuous business investment through YS's Community Investment Fund (CIF). As youth buy and sell to each other on YSM, they contribute 10% of their earnings to the CIF. YS is committed to the concept of kind capitalism through bottom-up economics and believes that the next generation of world citizens can recreate the world economy to be fairer and more inclusive.

YS will be able to expand its community of youth entrepreneurs further, thus contributing to the growth, development, and success of Cascais! Young people's involvement in economic development will allow them to increase the local GDP, provide tax revenue back to the country, and interact with youth from around the world who are also online vendors on YSM. With the opening of a physical store in Santa Monica, California, youth from Cascais can also export and sell their products to the United States.

Youth participating in the program can also join HireYouth.AI. Young people who complete the technology track and obtain the necessary badges in communication, business, and finance skills can be eligible for an internship, providing them with real-world work experience that will empower and prepare them for their journey toward becoming the next generation of world citizens and contributors to the global economy!
