About Mr Pool Man and Water TechniX

Mr Pool Man is a family-owned company that was founded back in 1998 by Hardy Hintze. After stepping out of a national sales role from the corporate world, Hardy started his own pool maintenance business to live the self-employed dream. Today, Mr Pool Man is a trusted name in Australia for pool supplies, chemicals, and equipment.

The company is now run by Hardy’s children, Tom and Natalie, who have grown the business to become Australia’s leading online pool supplies retailer. They have a small yet growing team of passionate pool experts who are genuinely interested in helping their customers enjoy their backyard oasis.

Mr Pool Man also owns Water TechniX, a home-grown brand of pool supplies that offers efficient and affordable pool equipment and chemicals. This brand was created based on years of feedback from customers and aims to provide quality products that maintain their durability for years to come.

Located in the Central Coast of NSW, Australia, Mr Pool Man continues to uphold its philosophy of treating people well, being honest, and providing exceptional lifetime customer support.
