

Dr. Mark Rosenbloom Joins the Advisory Board Of Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America

Driving innovation in the AI-enabled Alzheimer's and dementia treatment with a commitment to transforming personalized healthcare

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, USA, January 31, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America (ATCA) announces that Dr. Mark Rosenbloom has joined the Advisory Board of Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America.

Dr. Mark Rosenbloom brings decades of experience in root cause analysis as it relates to longevity which also has positive implications for our Alzheimer's disease and dementia patients.”

Gregory Buckley, CEO

“Dr. Mark Rosenbloom brings decades of experience in root cause analysis as it relates to longevity which also has positive implications for our Alzheimer's disease and dementia patients,” said Greg Buckley, CEO of Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America. “Mark can suggest even more incredible tools to add value to ATCA's treatment protocols.”

“I am all about anti-aging and performance when it comes to medicine,” adds Dr. Mark Rosenbloom. “When I founded LifeForce, I knew I was involved with precision medicine that has now become my purpose and my passion. When my parents suffered from Alzheimer's in their later years, I was determined to help prevent this disease, evaluate new drugs, and find effective treatments for Alzheimer's disease and dementia.”

ATCA's mission to treat Alzheimer's, dementia, memory loss and brain fog from Long COVID will reshape healthcare for the aging population. Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America uses Expert Artificial Intelligence (AI) technology with AI tools to create personalized care plans aimed at helping physicians improve patient care.

“Alzheimer's Treatment Centers of America is not a start-up; it is a roll out and it is ready to scale. There is no more R & D to prove out. Alpha testing, Beta testing, R & D testing, and Marketing testing have all been successfully accomplished. ATCA is in-network with Medicare, Medicaid, Medicare Advantage and all major insurance,” said CEO Greg Buckley (MBA -Harvard Business School, BSME University of Michigan).
