Jeff Freitas, CFT President

Rusty has a strong personal connection to the importance of increasing access to education for all. At 14-years old, Rusty attended his father’s graduation when he earned a high school diploma while incarcerated. This moment had a profound impact on them both.

“I watched both my Mother and Father struggle to get an education, and I’m proud of them for overcoming obstacles to do so,” said Hicks. “I’ve dedicated my life to increasing access to education for all, and am honored to have the support of the California Federation of Teachers in my campaign for State Assembly. We have so much more work to do together.”

Rusty currently serves as an Associate Professor at College of the Redwoods and teaches American Government to incarcerated students at Pelican Bay State Prison. Each week, he brings more than 20 years of first-hand experience to the classroom to share the story of our Nation's founding, and the many challenges and opportunities we face. This work informs Rusty's belief in the power of a second chance and a quality education for all.
