Remote Sober Support Network:
Empowering Recovery Through Community

Remote Sober Support Network (RSSN) understands that recovery is not a solitary journey—it's about community. From the moment an individual makes the courageous decision to change their life, RSSN is there to provide unwavering support every step of the way.

In collaboration with addiction recovery programs, RSSN offers a unique opportunity for individuals to become acquainted with the supportive community while still in treatment. By participating in RSSN (Remote Sober Support Network) meetings and activities, individuals can build connections and lay the foundation for ongoing support upon completion of intensive treatment.

Transitioning back into everyday life after intensive treatment can be challenging, especially without a support system in place. That's where RSSN shines. Whether you reside in a rural area or navigate the bustling streets of the city, RSSN offers accessible and inclusive support options. Through virtual group meetings, individuals can join discussions, share experiences, and find encouragement regardless of their location or schedule constraints.

At the heart of RSSN is our one-on-one sober coaching program. Our experienced coaches provide personalized guidance and accountability, empowering individuals to navigate the complexities of recovery with confidence and resilience. Additionally, our interactive Slack channels offer a dynamic platform for members to connect, engage, and find support whenever they need it.

RSSN operates on a subscription basis, ensuring that individuals have continuous access to our comprehensive suite of services. We believe that recovery is an ongoing journey, and our subscription model reflects our commitment to providing sustainable support for long-term success.

In recognition of the vital role families play in the recovery process, RSSN also offers an exceptional Family Support program. Designed to assist families as they navigate their loved one's journey to sobriety, this program provides resources, guidance, and a supportive community for those walking alongside their loved ones. "We aim to support the parent who has just tucked their little ones into bed and now has a moment to connect with their support group from the comfort of their own home, knowing their loved one is receiving treatment elsewhere." - Jill Ross

At RSSN, we believe that recovery is not just about abstaining from substances—it's about building a fulfilling and meaningful life. Through our supportive community, personalized coaching, and accessible resources, we are dedicated to empowering individuals and families on their path to lasting sobriety.
