

Vancouver Island's New Health & Safety Conference, Hosted by the Manufacturing Safety Alliance of BC in Victoria March 1

Vancouver Island employers will learn and share world-class health, safety, and business performance strategies through keynotes, expert sessions, and workshops

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, February 5, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Make It Safe Vancouver Island—Victoria's new health and safety conference—lands at the Coast Victoria on Friday, March 1, 2024.

From breweries to fisheries, cheesemakers to metal manufacturers, Vancouver Island industry leaders, safety experts, HR professionals, and safety committees will meet and connect at this inaugural full-day event. Leading Island employers will connect at Make It Safe to share best practices and opportunities for practical training and professional development.

In a series of workshops, expert sessions, and panel discussions, Make It Safe Vancouver Island will help attendees make new connections and learn practical key strategies for world-class health, safety, and performance.

“Over the last few years, it’s become increasingly clear that successful companies have thriving cultures,” begins Lisa McGuire, CEO of the Manufacturing Safety Alliance of BC. “A healthy culture that manages risk to enhance productivity reduces turnover and leaves employees feeling safe.”
