

Antigal Winery & Estates Named New World Winery of the Year 2023 by Wine Enthusiast Magazine

Antigal Winery & Estates was named New World Winery of the Year 2023, an award given to the most outstanding winery located outside of the U.S. and Europe.

MENDOZA, RUSSELL-MAIPU, ARGENTINA, February 9, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Antigal Winery & Estates, nestled in Argentina's Uco Valley, proudly announces its recent accolade as Best New World Winery at Wine Enthusiast magazine's gala in Miami. This prestigious recognition from a leading industry authority marks a significant milestone for the family-owned winery.

At the 24th Wine Star Awards, honoring global wine innovators, Antigal stood out as the sole Argentine nominee in the coveted Best New World Winery category. Jessica Vargas, Wine Enthusiast journalist, noted Antigal's role in elevating the Uco Valley with its signature Malbec and diverse wines. The fierce competition in this category included top wineries from New Zealand, South Africa and Chile.

Director Alessandra Cartoni expressed profound gratitude, emphasizing the winery's steadfast dedication to excellence and innovation. "We're honored to receive the Best New World Winery award from Wine Enthusiast magazine. This recognition speaks volumes about our commitment to producing world-class wines that showcase the unique qualities of our vineyards and Argentinean terroir. The tribute shows appreciation of the hard work and dedication of my family, our team in Mendoza, partners in the U.S. and worldwide. Together, we strive for excellence, meticulously attending to every detail, driven by shared values and the pursuit of wines that stand among the world's finest," she stated.
