Animal Charities of America (ACA) is immensely grateful for the ongoing support that allows us to continue our mission of supporting animals. Along with our partners, we are helping animals with a wide array of on ongoing needs, such as protection from abuse and neglect, population control via spay/neuter programs and vet care, service animal training and placement, habitat protection, and so much more. In lieu of recent worldwide events, a bigger need for emergency funds when disasters strike has become apparent. The newly launched Emergency Aid for Animals Fund is designed to address this gap and ensure timely assistance to animals and communities affected by unforeseen events.

The Disaster Relief Grant we received from Animal Charities of America has played a pivotal role in our ongoing efforts to address the aftermath of the recent wildfires in Maui.”

The Emergency Aid for Animals Fund has already made a significant impact by extending support to organizations grappling with the aftermath of the Lahaina, Maui wildfire devastation. Two Disaster Relief Grants provided by ACA played a pivotal role in aiding organizations in urgent needs there.

The Maui Humane Society was severely impacted by the wildfires and received a grant from ACA to help respond to the disaster. Kaustuv Ghotane, Interim Director of Development, of the Maui Humane Society, expressed gratitude, stating, "The Disaster Relief Grant we received from Animal Charities of America has played a pivotal role in our ongoing efforts to address the aftermath of the recent wildfires in Maui. The funds received have enabled us to provide critical assistance, including shelter, medical care, and essential supplies, to animals and families affected by this devastating event."

Save Maui Cats, another recipient of the fund, faced additional challenges as they lost almost all their volunteer support due to the displacement caused by the wildfires. Michael Willinsky of Save Maui Cats shared his perspective, saying, "As one of the very few animal welfare nonprofits based in Lahaina, Maui, SaveMauiCats.org has been struggling to help hundreds of desperate fixed, healthy stray cats survive and thrive from the recent wildfires that obliterated our town and their habitats."

He further added, "It has been extra challenging for us, as 9 out of 12 of our volunteers lost their homes and had to quit helping altogether."

The Emergency Aid for Animals Fund aims to continue its mission by providing rapid assistance to aid animals facing crises, ensuring organizations on the front lines can continue their essential work in helping animals in need.

Animal Charities of America encourages individuals and businesses to contribute to the Emergency Aid for Animals Fund, to help strengthen the organization's ability to respond swiftly to future emergencies.
