

Plumber in Renton WA Unveils Transparent Pricing Database

RENTON, WA, UNITED STATES, February 13, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Trusted Plumbing & Heating, a local plumbing company based in Renton, Washington, is making waves in the industry by prioritizing transparency and fairness in pricing. In a move to provide customers with peace of mind and empower them with information, the company has unveiled its entire price list & database online, offering full visibility into the costs associated with its services.

In an industry where uncertainty and surprise costs have become all too common, Trusted Plumbing & Heating is taking a bold stand for transparency with its online price database. With many plumbers withholding pricing information until they arrive at the customer's location and diagnose the issue, or even including unnecessary fees with no clear reason for them, customers often face unexpected and inflated bills. This practice is exacerbated by the commission-based compensation structure prevalent in the industry, where plumbers may be incentivized to provide higher estimates.

By making our pricing readily available online, we empower customers to make informed decisions and eliminate surprises.”

Jim Cunningham

One satisfied customer of Trusted Plumbing & Heating, Lisa C., shared her experience: "I had another plumbing company come out and they quoted me over $5,000 for a job that Trusted Plumbing ended up doing for just $859.19. I wasn't going to pay that much and luckily I found Trusted Plumbing on Facebook."

Jim Cunningham, the owner of Trusted Plumbing &
