

Qualified Risk Directors® to Join J.P. Morgan Board Director Candidate Database

Qualified Risk Directors® are distinguishing themselves around the world with their unique approach to the positive governance of risk-taking.

GLOBAL, ORGANIZATION, February 14, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The DCRO Institute, the world's leading source of risk governance training and credentials for board members and C-suite executives, announced today that its Qualified Risk Directors® have been invited to join the J.P. Morgan Director Advisory Services members' site. Going forward, Qualified Risk Directors® will be eligible for referral to serve on the boards of J.P. Morgan's corporate clients in Europe, the Middle East, and Africa.

Qualified Risk Director®

"We're honored that J.P. Morgan Director Advisory Services has chosen us to bring critical risk governance talent to their client company boards," said David R. Koenig, QRD®, President and Chief Executive Officer of the DCRO Institute. "The service is highly selective, and Qualified Risk Directors® are distinguishing themselves around the world with their unique approach to the positive governance of risk-taking, and this news reinforces how important it is to bring rich and robust skill sets to boards where risk is a part of every discussion."

J.P. Morgan Director Advisory Services provides strategic, board-level advice to corporate clients and individuals on governance, board succession planning, and board building. They also provide general corporate governance support, in particular to the boards of multinational and cross-border clients navigating complex regulatory and governance environments.

Qualified Risk Directors® have gone through an assessment and training process demonstrating and developing their expertise across business, risk, and leadership. They have sound educational backgrounds that combine to bring skills to the boardroom that are highly valued in these turbulent times. Coming from diverse industries, experiences, and geographic locations on six continents, Qualified Risk Directors® have a distinguished ability to link corporate strategy to the positive governance of risk-taking and board oversight duties.

“When the fundamental Duty of Care for directors around risk is to ensure that our organizations take risks well in pursuit of our goals and ambitions, having the right mix of board members with diverse and essential skills and expertise is critical for any organization’s success,” said Koenig.
