Paulownia wood is known for its lightweight and durable properties, making it an ideal material for surfboards and paddleboards.”

BioEconomy Solutions

This partnership between BioEconomy Solutions and Surfboard manufacturers and shapers is a significant step towards promoting sustainable practices in the surfboard industry. The paulownia wood is known for its lightweight and durable properties, making it an ideal material for surfboards and paddleboards. By using this sustainable wood, Venao Surfboards is not only creating high-quality products but also contributing to the preservation of the environment.

According to BioEconomy Solutions, Venao Surfboards has purchased a significant amount of paulownia wood, which will be used for their upcoming collection of handcrafted hollow wooden surfboards and paddleboards. This collaboration not only benefits both companies but also promotes the use of sustainable materials in the production of consumer goods. It also highlights the importance of responsible forestry practices in preserving our planet's natural resources.

The sale of paulownia lumber to Venao Surfboards is a testament to BioEconomy Solutions' commitment to promoting sustainable paulownia hardwood forestry solutions. The company is dedicated to providing environmentally-friendly alternatives to traditional wood products and is proud to partner with Venao Surfboards in their efforts to create sustainable and high-quality wooden surfboards and paddleboards. This collaboration is a significant step towards a greener and more sustainable future for the surfboard industry.
