

WOMEN'S IMAGE NETWORK ANNOUNCES HONOREES & NOMINEES

The 25th Women's Image Award ceremony hosted by Caroline Rhea, will honor Ann-Margret, Loretta Devine & Regina K. Scully

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, February 15, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Now in its 25th year, The Women's Image Awards celebrate male and female media artists whose film and television advances the value of women and girls. Women's Image Network (WIN) is thrilled to celebrate Ann-Margret with its Living Legend tribute: "I am so very honored to be with The Women's Image Network this year. W.I.N.'s mission is something that I love, support, and truly believe in. We women must stick together and empower one another. Thank you and god bless - Ann-Margret."

WIN Honorees

I am so very honored to be with The Women's Image Network this year. W.I.N.'s mission is something that I love, support, and truly believe in. We women must stick together and empower one another.”

Ann-Margret

Loretta Devine, with its Lifetime Achievement award: “What a wonderful way to start 2024; excited and hopeful for what is to come thanks to this award. The WIN awards are such a special honor, being recognized for doing the work you love by an organization so greatly respected is a dream come true. Thank you and know you are appreciated.” Loretta Devine.

Philanthropist and producer Regina K. Scully will accept The WIN Awards Humanitarian Honoree tribute: “I’m honored to receive the Humanitarian Award from Women’s Image Network. I’m a filmmaker who is also in the trauma recovery business. Storytelling changes our DNA. Films help transform the world. It’s especially timely, as the world needs stories that help heal. Our stories are a call to action; our primary mission has always been to enable filmmakers to tell stories that inspire and educate."

The poster for the Win Awards 25 nominees is a vibrant, dark-themed graphic. At the top left, a large, stylized '5' is formed by a film strip, with the word 'Win' in a bold, blue font next to it. Below this, the text 'AWARDS' is written in a smaller, white font. The poster is divided into several sections, each with a title in a bold, white font. The sections include: FILM DIRECTORS, SERIES DIRECTORS, COMEDY SERIES, ACTRESS COMEDY SERIES, DRAMA SERIES, ACTRESS DRAMA SERIES, FILM / SHOW PRODUCERS, REALITY SERIES, ACTRESS REALITY SERIES, ANIMATED SERIES, and ACTRESS ANIMATED SERIES. Each section lists the names of the nominees and the titles of their respective works. The background of the poster is a dark, textured surface with a subtle, glowing light effect. The overall design is modern and professional, reflecting the prestige of the awards.

About Living Legend Honoree Ann-Margret:

Ann-Margret, a consummate entertainer, has been nominated twice for an Academy Award, won five Golden Globe Awards, won an Emmy, and received five other Emmy nominations. She is a three-time winner of the "Female Star of the Year" award and has been twice honored as "Outstanding Box Office Star of the Year" by the Theatre Owners of America. Ann-Margret was also nominated for a Grammy for her CD, "God is Love: The Gospel Sessions."

Ann-Margret has performed at the White House, received presidential citations for entertaining the U.S. armed forces overseas and was honored by the USO World Board of Governors. During the Vietnam War, Ann-Margret and other entertainers teamed up for a USO tour to entertain U.S. service members in remote parts of Vietnam and Southeast Asia. She still has a great affection for veterans and refers to them as "my gentleman." She has even given a royal command performance for the King and Queen of Sweden.

As a young girl, Ann-Margret was discovered by the legendary George Burns, and since her film debut playing Bette Davis' daughter in "A Pocketful of Miracles," Ann-Margret has made over fifty-five films, including such hits as "Cincinnati Kid," "State Fair," "Tommy," "Carnal Knowledge," "Bye Bye Birdie," "Viva Las Vegas," "Stagecoach," "Grumpy Old Men" and its sequel, "Grumpier Old Men." She earned her two Academy Award nominations in director Mike Nichols' famous film, "Carnal Knowledge," and in the classic Ken Russell rock film, "Tommy."

She has also co-starred with such luminaries as John Wayne, Elvis Presley, Anthony Hopkins, Jack Nicholson, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Kirk Douglas, Steve McQueen, Burt Reynolds, and Walter Matthau, among others. Ann-Margret starred with Morgan Freeman, Michael Caine, and Alan Arkin in the New Line Productions film "Going in Style." She co-starred in the Oliver Stone movie, "Any Given Sunday," with Al Pacino and Cameron Diaz. Her Showtime movie, "Happy Face Murders," was the highest rated original movie for fifteen months. She also appeared in a two-part episode of Showtime's highly rated series "Ray Donovan." Ann-Margret won the Emmy for Outstanding Guest Actress in a Drama for NBC's highly rated drama, "Law & Order: SVU" and she received an Emmy, Golden Globe and Screen Actors Guild nomination as Best Actress in a Movie for Television, starring as the legendary Pamela Harriman in the Lifetime film, "Life of the Party." She guest starred in a three-part episode of NBC's award-winning series "Third Watch," as well as "CSI." She co-starred in "Old Dogs" with John Travolta and Robin Williams and "Loss of a Teardrop Diamond" with Bryce Dallas Howard.

Her television career has been equally impressive with brilliant dramatic performances and Emmy nominations for "Who Will Love My Children," "Queen," "The Two Mrs. Grenvilles" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." Ann-Margret recorded the main title song for the DreamWorks Flintstones movie, "Viva Rock Vegas." She has also starred in many of her own television specials including "The Ann-Margret Show," "From Hollywood With Love," "Dames At Sea," "When You're Smiling," "Ann-Margret Olsson," "Rhinestone Cowgirl," and "Rockette: A Tribute to Radio City Music Hall" As further proof of her popularity, one week after its publication her autobiography, "My Story" reached the New York Times Best Seller List.

Ann-Margret starred in the production "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas" which traveled coast-to-coast touring 39 cities and grossed over $32 million-dollars. She just starred in the feature film "Queen Bees" with Ellen Burstyn, James Caan, Jane Curtin, and Loretta Devine. She has recorded an album of her favorite rock n' roll songs from the 60's to 70's for Cleopatra Records that will be released as a collector's vinyl edition. Earlier this year, Ann-Margret released her limited edition perfume 'Ann-Margret', in which 100% of the proceeds go to The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund.

About Lifetime Achievement Honoree Loretta Devine:

Loretta Devine is one of the world's most prolific entertainers having achieved a prominence few character performers reach. This sought-after Emmy® Award winning actress and singer has appeared in over 220 films and television shows garnering nine NAACP Image Awards, (from a record twenty four nominations).

Currently, Loretta embodies the role of Ernestine, (one of the most important recurring characters), on the hit Starz series, P-Valley, for which she's been nominated in the Outstanding Actress in a Drama Series at The Women's Image Awards 25.

A force on the Broadway stage, in 1981 Loretta originated the role of Lorrell Robinson in the Tony Award-winning musical Dreamgirls. In 2006, Loretta also played a cameo in the Bill Condon film Dreamgirls starring Jennifer Hudson. Loretta made her film debut in 1981 in the indie movie, Will, and followed up with other independent movies like Anna to the Infinite Power, Little Nikita and Stanley & Iris. In 1995, she co-starred in the Forest Whitaker film Waiting to Exhale with Whitney Houston and Angela Bassett and co-starred in Penny Marshall's film The Preacher's Wife with Denzel Washington and Whitney Houston.

For both 1995 films Loretta garnered NAACP Image Awards. In 1998, she co-starred with Alfre Woodard in the Maya Angelou film Down in the Delta and in 1999 she joined Alfre Woodard again in Funny Valentines. In 2000, She co-starred with Mel Gibson and Helen Hunt in Nancy Meyers' film What Women Want, which grossed $374 million. In 2001, Loretta co-starred with Michelle Pfeiffer and Sean Penn in a Jessie Williams film, i am sam, considered an acclaimed exploration of adults facing intellectual disabilities. From 2000 to 2004, Loretta starred in all 81 episodes of the Emmy® Award winning series Boston Public, for which she received an NAACP Image Award. In 2004, Loretta was nominated for a Spirit Award for Woman Thou Art Loosed sharing the story of a young woman healing from sexual abuse, drug addiction and poverty. Then in 2004, along came the Academy Award winning film Crash. Her work also includes This Christmas, First Sunday, For Colored Girls, Madea's Big Happy Family and Jumping the Broom. In 2011, Loretta won an Emmy® Award for her recurring role on Grey's Anatomy. More recently, Loretta starred on the critically acclaimed NBC sitcom, The Carmichael Show, and co-starred on BET's Being Mary Jane. Loretta voices 'Hallie the Hippo' on Disney's Doc McStuffins, a Peabody Award winning animated series.
