The growing prominence on ESG, Climate change, Human rights has ignited the need for Sustainability Dialogues from big corporations trickling down to individuals contribution towards the cause. The cause of organizing these events has evolved from creating awareness or sensitization to what next? and implementation ways.

In view of the changing dynamics, IICSR group is organizing Sustainability dialogues across North Americas on topics related to sustainable development. The platform is to give opportunity to the corporates to share their initiatives and entrepreneurs to share their impact innovations.

Harsha S, Managing director IICSR Group states that "Sustainability dialogues is to discuss on the most sensitive topics whose solutions are unfounded and together as a society we could find solutions through technology innovations or setting a new practice"

As each industry has its own sustainability challenges, IICSR Group intends to organize industry focussed sustainability dialogues for co-learning, exchanging knowledge and practices. Some of the sessions are conducted in hybrid mode and recordings are available in the public domain for further dissemination of knowledge. The upcoming sustainability dialogues are focused on:
