About Website Rental Coaching

Website Rental Coaching teaches people how to create a passive income by renting lead generation websites to local businesses.

Our coaching clients are an even split of 9-5'ers and business owners, all of whom share a desire for time freedom. The 9-5'ers are often looking to replace their full-time incomes and quit their jobs. Some of them love what they do; others hate it, but all of them want more control over their schedule.

Many of the 9-5'ers have tried to build businesses on the side before, or they already run successful side hustles, earning money with affiliate marketing, eBay, Amazon, dropshipping, network marketing, or MLM.

The business owners want more control over their schedules too. Most of them own rental properties or invest in real estate, and quite a few of them have also tried one or more side hustles.

Luke Van Der Veer joins other leading CEO's, founders, and thought leaders that have participated in this informative and popular interview show.
