

Imperium Data Announces Juniper PAR Support Partnership

TAMPA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, February 21, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Imperium Data proudly announces its certification as a PAR Support partner by Juniper Networks, a leading provider of networking solutions. This partnership marks a significant milestone in Imperium Data's commitment to delivering enhanced operational efficiency and reduced costs for its clients through service automation.

Juniper Partner Support offers a streamlined approach to addressing technical concerns and optimizing the performance of Juniper Networks products. As a certified PAR Support partner, Imperium Data assumes the role of the primary point of contact for all inquiries and assistance related to Juniper Networks solutions. This partnership empowers our clients to focus on core business operations while entrusting their networking infrastructure to a dedicated support team.

Under the Partner Support model, Imperium Data extends comprehensive services, including the creation of user accounts, access to software downloads, and proficient 1st and 2nd level technical support. By leveraging our expertise and resources, clients can mitigate downtime, enhance system reliability, and unlock the full potential of their Juniper Networks investments.

"We are thrilled to announce our certification as a Juniper Networks PAR Support Partner," said Brian Hill, President at Imperium Data. "This investment underscores our unwavering commitment to delivering unparalleled support and value to not only our end clients, but to the Juniper team as well. By taking on the responsibility of Tier 1 Support and Escalation, our NOC team enables Imperium Data to continue to go the extra mile and deliver results within a crowded channel partner landscape."

This partnership between Imperium Data and Juniper Networks is a testament to both companies' commitment to delivering the best possible solutions to their clients. With Imperium Data's expertise and Juniper's advanced tools, clients can expect even more streamlined and cost-effective services. Imperium Data looks forward to continuing to provide top-notch technology solutions to its clients and is excited about the opportunities this partnership will bring.
