“I am thrilled and honored to be a part of this cutting-edge company. They are on the forefront of regenerative medicine and I have experienced firsthand the benefits of their therapies. I have been a psoriasis sufferer for many years, and have visited at least four doctors for treatment. Nothing would help me,” said Sydney Armani, Chairman and CEO of Fintech World Group. “After two therapy sessions with Celebration Wellness, my psoriasis has disappeared and I have been symptom free for over six months. I want others to experience these therapies, which

I know will have major health benefits for patients.”

“We are ecstatic to have Sydney as a valued member of our team as a media consultant,” said Tim Kopatich, Chief Executive Officer of Celebration. “His broad experience in the investment and Fintech communities will add value to our company and allow us to expand our business more rapidly and we are honored he chose to have treatment at the facility.”
