A Legacy of Innovation and Commitment: Dr. Jaeger's Heritage and Early Influences

YESCO, under the leadership of Dr. Jaeger's great-grandfather, Tom Young Sr., and grandfather, Vaughan M. Cannon Sr., transformed Las Vegas into the radiant oasis of neon that it is today. From iconic landmarks such as the "Welcome to Las Vegas" sign to the vibrant displays adorning the Strip's most storied hotels, YESCO's work has become synonymous with the city's visual identity. Dr. Jaeger's childhood, spent amidst this backdrop of innovation and creativity, instilled in him a strong work ethic and a passion for contributing to his community's growth and well-being.

From Neon Lights to Wellness Care: A Journey of Healing and Discovery

We encourage you to dive into the article to uncover the depth of Dr. Jaeger's connections to Las Vegas and how these ties have fueled a passion for enhancing the well-being of our community. It's more than just a piece about healthcare—it's a testament to the spirit of innovation and community service that defines both our founder and Advanced Spine & Posture. Dr. Jaeger's path to chiropractic care was sparked by a life-altering car accident. Initially pursuing a career in law, the accident's aftermath led him to discover the transformative power of chiropractic treatment. This experience, coupled with his early exposure to the principles of design and engineering through his family's business, inspired Dr. Jaeger to focus his education and career on aligning Medical, Physical Therapy, and Chiropractic Biophysics™
