

BRINGING WELLNESS HOME: ARCXIS AND WELLNESS WITHIN YOUR WALLS PARTNER TO LAUNCH PRODUCTION BUILDER PROGRAM

HOUSTON, TX, USA, February 23, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ARCXIS Builder Services, the nation's leading engineering and inspections firm, has partnered with nationally known Wellness Within Your Walls® (WWYW) to become the first certified inspector for its new Production Builder Program, which will be announced at the NAHB 2024 International Builders' Show and NKBA 2024 Kitchen and Bath Industry Show in Las Vegas this February.

WWYW is an education and certification company whose mission is to connect consumers and the design and build industries with healthy, eco-sensitive products and strategies that result in beautiful, sustainable, non-toxic living environments.

WWYW's Production Builder Program provides volume builders with a streamlined process to incorporate a nationwide standard that promotes healthier homes for today's health-conscious home buyers. WWYW certification benefits include increased customer satisfaction, retention and loyalty, expanded customer base with a competitive edge within the industry and the positive impact of "Doing the Right Thing" within the community. Based on almost two decades of analysis from case studies and pilots, WWYW's program provides volume builders with an unprecedented opportunity to experience the benefits of a health and wellness program through education, inspection and certification.

The global wellness economy is worth $5.6 trillion, of which approximately $398 billion is directly related to wellness real estate. WWYW certification allows builders to participate in this growing market and differentiate themselves from competitors and provides homebuyers with peace of mind that they are receiving a healthier home that their family can enjoy for years to come.
