legal and social work professional dedicated to advocating for the well-being of individuals and families. Presley commenced her academic journey by obtaining a Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) from the University of Arkansas in 2016, followed by a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) from UA Little Rock in 2019. Continuing her pursuit of knowledge, Presley earned her Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree from UA Little Rock Bowen School of Law in 2019. She is licensed to practice law in Arkansas and the Eastern and Western Districts of Arkansas, and also holds a social work license in the state. As an Attorney ad Litem and a devoted Parent Counsel specializing in dependency and neglect cases within the 15th Judicial District, Presley brings her unique blend of legal and social work expertise to her practice.

A proud member of the legal community, Presley is actively involved in the Arkansas Bar Association, the Arkansas Association of Women Lawyers, and the Pulaski County Bar Association. Additionally, she holds a distinct position as a certified trauma specialist and has taken on the role of Founder of the Center for Advocacy and Awareness, an organization committed to educating attorneys and professionals on trauma-related matters. Presley's dedication to public service is evidenced by her numerous accolades, including the Dean's Certificate of Distinguished Public Service, the Certificate of Public Service, and her role as Editor-in-Chief of the Arkansas Journal of Social Change and Public Service during her time in law school. She continues to contribute to the legal field by hosting continuing legal education courses on emotional abuse and trauma.

In her legal practice, Presley focuses on various areas, including family law, child custody and support, divorce, child welfare law, child maltreatment, domestic violence law, dependency-neglect law, and guardianship/adoption law, among others. Her unwavering commitment to advocacy has been recognized by Arkansas Money & Politics Magazine's "Legal Elite" for both 2021 and 2023, further solidifying her reputation as an esteemed professional in the legal arena. Presley's unique background and steadfast dedication to promoting justice and social welfare make her a notable presence within the legal and social work communities.
