MethodHub Title Sponsor of San Diego Women's Cricket Tournament

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA, USA, February 26, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MethodHub, a global technology services company, was the title sponsor of the San Diego Open, a leading women's cricket tournament. This is an annual event over the President's Day Weekend and had four teams with players across the USA and Canada competing with 5 hard-fought games over 3 days. After 5 games played with a lot of spirit and ending with sore limbs, the Blazers won the San Diego tournament in a thrilling, low scoring final.

The tournament was a hectic affair involving lots of traveling, 3-hour jet lags for most players coming from Eastern United States as well as Canada, but the cricketers gave it their very best and most games were very competitive including a Tie in the league phase. Through supporting important cricket tournaments, MethodHub hopes to make Women's cricket more popular with more chances to compete at the highest level.

MethodHub continues its support and sponsorship of women's cricket events in the US following the St Louis event of last year. This year, MethodHub plans to sponsor more events as it is a T20 World Cup year in the US and Caribbean and the visibility around the game is only bound to increase here.

MethodHub CEO Aho Bilam in Awards Ceremony
