

Esteemed Intergalactic Band Metal Warrior Releases Latest Single The Battle Will Be Won

Honors The Aspirational Heights Of Human Existence

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, February 26, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Earth, on the day after the day that the Roman priest Valentine was executed by Claudius II in the Earth year 270.

Battles are historical, and they are current. They are big, and they are small. They are epic, and they are everyday. The latest single released from the historical, big and epic band Metal Warrior pays tribute to the triumphs we all aspire to. And that Metal Warrior does. No one knows triumph and glory better.

Featuring searing guitar riffs, driving beats, and huge vocal melodies, the effects of the song are undeniable. "We are fully aware of the significance of the impact of our music on the human psyche, and are proud to bring our everlasting message of inspiration and intergalactic goodwill once again to the good peoples of Earth," said bandleader Pskydin. "The bad peoples, however, can fuck right off," he clarified, "as this song is not to be used by any aspiring Oknjars or Hitlers of any race or color, be they black, brown, white or orange."

The song features a 'lyric video' made to further inspire the winning spirit.

The Battle Will Be Won has been an instant hit. Teams ranging from football, to rugby and debate the world over adopting The Battle Will Be Won as their theme song. "Our team instantly gravitated towards the song and made it our official theme," said Coach Adelman of Granting Heights High School. "It really charges the guys up and gets the crowd cheering and singing along."
