Javier Palomarez, President and CEO of the USHBC, released the following statement on behalf of the organization:

"The ongoing crisis at our Southern Border demands urgent and meaningful action. I am delighted to see President Biden take the time to come to South Texas. I hope his visit will include local businesses, law enforcement agencies, and community leaders in order to truly understand the complexity of this multifaceted issue.

The relationship between the United States and Mexico extends beyond just a border, with Mexico surpassing China as our country's top trade partner. President Biden's visit to the border serves as a stark reminder of the need for full-scale commitment and direct involvement in finding answers to this crisis. We remain hopeful in his decision to confront this pressing issue head-on and stand ready to persist in our engagement with all stakeholders, emphasizing that everyone must actively participate in crafting solutions rather than deflecting responsibility or blame."
